Subject: 2008 Universal Cycle - Public Comments

The current Universal Cycle application provides 2 points for a tankless gas water heater.

We would propose that the application also provides two points for a tankless electric water heater. The tankless electric water heater is equally efficient as the tankless gas water heater. We are actually replacing in some non-affordable multifamily units in South Florida the old water heaters with the tankless electric heaters and seeing a reduction in the utility bills.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.
