HTG supports the continued use of the Surveyor Certification Form in all RFAs administered by Florida Housing. We believe that it is critically important that the Corporation continues to require and correspondingly rely on a professional and independent third party to verify such essential information as the Development Location Point and its distance to necessary services for the development's future residents. Further, we strongly urge the continued use of a professional and independent third party to confirm a development's distance from recently constructed Corporation funded developments and the development's location within DDAs, QCTs, Areas of Opportunity, etc.

Thank you for your consideration.
