Subject: Doctors

I was just looking at a site.

The site has a doctor's practice (5 doctors) one block away. Incredibly organized, and patients can even make their own appointments on line, check their test results through their portal, etc.

And yet, it won't qualify as medical, again, because it doesn't take walk-ins.

I know this issue will be addressed at the workshop for comment, but just wanted to share another example with you. (and add to the list of items in your in-box, right?).

Enjoy the long weekend with your family.

Best,
